- 1 Set up main categories (outdoor, history, art, family, nightlife) to help users quickly decide where to look. These categories can be refined in a later step.
- 2 Acknowledge the users needs: set up appropriate filters to narrow down search results (more filter options are still in-progress)
- 3 Establishing a card-like system with a picture and the most important parameters to easily grasp the content of the tour. For adding personality and as this an app used for traveling, the cards are presented as Polaroid-like pictures, like in a photo album with only the best shots represented.
- 4 For a returning user, the dashboard will show recommended tours appropriate to their preferences.
